

Lars Johnson for U. S. Congress

Lars Johnson is an independent businessman determined to promote a free market economy that is not entangled with government obstacles and unfunded mandates.

Why Am I Running?

My guiding principle for seeking Minnesota's First District Congressional seat is: The U.S. Constitution is a job description for the federal government and for the elected or appointed officials described therein. Members of Congress should behave, as their oath of office explicitly states, in ways that demonstrate they are indeed committed to upholding the integrity of our constitutional republic.

Who is Lars Johnson?

He and his wife, Karen, have been married for twenty-nine years. They have two adult daughters and one son-in-law.

Lars Johnson is a food safety certification trainer and consultant. He is the owner and operator of FoodSafetyGuy.com. He is a Certified Professional – Food Safety (CP-FS) and a member of the Minnesota Environmental Health Association and the National Environmental Health Association. He has worked in the restaurant industry as an hourly worker, a restaurant manager at different levels and above store leader managing food safety and quality assurance.

He graduated from Austin Public High School and then completed an A.A. at Minnesota Bible College (Crossroads College) in Rochester, Minn. and a B.A. in Linguistics at the University of Minnesota.

You Can Help!

We welcome and invite your financial contribution, assuming you are an American citizen or legal immigrant possessing a valid "green card." To verify compliance with Federal Election Commission guidelines, please contact us before:

- contributing more than $2,400 per election cycle;
- contributing more than $100 in cash.

Checks can be sent to: Lars for Office PO Box 742 Rochester, MN 55903

Please be sure to include your name and address with any contribution. If your contribution is more than $200, you must also include your occupation and employer's name.